ALBAUGH'S GRAND OPERA HOUSE. I have seldom found that sanguine pr dictions regarding a new play are fully to the rule. The argument of the play is unique. Packingham Gilledge, a New York stock broker, has a wayward son, Billy, who has no taste for school, and who plues to be a man and to go on 'change and have a good time. The stock broker, on the other hand, weary and worried by business troubles, longs to be a boy again. Then, through the magic of a hoodoo idol, which held in the right hand, will bring to pass any wish of the holder, a metamorphosis is effected—the father is turned into the son and the son into the father. Each, however, retain their mental faculities. The metamorphosis is but physical. The son, assuming paternal authority, sends the 'old man' to school, and he himself goes into the stock exchange, and leads a rather fast life. The old buck of 60, in his youthful garb, makes have in the school room, and the young blood creates dismay among the servants of the Giltedge mansion by bringing home ballet girls to dine. The experience of these two form the most exasperatingly funny series of complexities ever seen in any modern comedy. Finally, affairs are happily straightened out by the two being transformed back into their original selves—wiser, but apparently not saddes from their many Judicrous and exciting adventures.

In the character of Giltedge Mr. Daniela undertakes a role of simon-purefarcical comedy, and his performance justifies the claim he is making to comedy rank of the legitimate order. Daniels is but little known to the Washington public; in fact, he never played here before. But to those who have associated him with the most pronounced idiosyncrasies of extravagant comedy and burlesque he is a gratifying surprise in "Little Puck." His acting is matured careful, and intelligent. His humor is rich and broad within limitations. As a comedian he may be classed as one who does not need a part measured for him; but, with studied concern for the requirements of the character, is able to clothe himself with a personality in which the apt and beafitting features of a singular individuality are to the rule. The argument of the play is unique. Packingham Giltedge, a New York the apt and beditting features of a singular individuality are artistically grafted.

Miss Bessle Sanson as Miranda Savage proved herself a delightful soubrette. Mr. Robert Fraser gave to the character of Sluggus a refreshing originality. The balance of the cast did excellently well.

There was a large and highly intelligent sudience present, and, if we may judge of a Washington first night, "the funniest man of our age," supported by an exceptionally well-balanced company, will do an excellent business.

The play is one of the funniest conceits I ever saw. Go and laugh.

NEW NATIONAL THEATER.

NEW NATIONAL THEATER.

The play is one of the funniest conceits I ever saw. Go and laugh.

"The Arabian Nights; or, Aladdin's Wonderful Lamp," was produced by the Imperial Burlesque Company last night. When the curtain rose upon the opening chorus, in the caliph's alcove, every seat in the balcony, gallery, orchestra, and orchestra circle was taken and the boxes were well occupied. A great deal was expected of the piece by this audience, owing to the long runs in New York and cisewhere, and criticism can be summed up when it is said that the production equaled all that has been said of it. It is a composition of the best elements of the Rice burlesque and the gorgeous features of the Kiralfy productions. The, music arranged by Jesse Williams, of the New York Casino, is in that clever leader and composer's happiest vein. The costumes and scenery, designed by Capt. Alfred Thompson, are equal, if not superior, to anything he has ever done, and when his 'Henry V.' "Comedy of Errora," "Romeo and Juliet," and the Henry Irving productions are borne in mind. this is high praise. The plece is full of mechanical novelites, involving the working of every kind of trap. One of the striking features is the steam curtain in the first act. From a beautifully paluted groatesque the locality into what is cuphonlously styled, "The Crypt of Crimson Crystais."

The palace of parti-colored parasols is gorgeous, and the final transformation scene, as some one said of the plece, like Banquo's ghost, "dazzles the eyeballs." The palace of parti-colored parasols to gorgeous, and the final transformation scene, as some one said of the plece, like Banquo's ghost, "dazzles the eyeballs." The palace of parti-colored parasols to gorgeous, and the final transformation scene, as some one said of the plece, like Banquo's ghost, "dazzles the eyeballs." The palace of parti-colored parasols to ordinate a charming serenade at the opening of the last act scored a decided hit.

HARRIS BIOU THEATER.

A large audience was present last night and applauded Henry Chanfrau's excellent acting in the title role of "kit, the Arkansas Traveler." Of the play I don't need say a word. Everybody knows it. Mr. Chanfrau was sufficiently heroic, reasonably dramatic, and reached his climaxes naturally. Miss Grace Wade made a capital Alice Redding. Mr. W. W. Taylor and Mr. Bassett Willard as the Judge and the Major, respectively, made the most of the uproarious comedy element in these characters. The explosion of the steamer was a mechanical success. The chorus on the leve was well received. The bowle knife conflict was admirably executed. Everybody was pleased, even those critical guests of the evening—the officers of the Washington Lodge of Elks—who occupied insteluily decorated boxes. I want to urge the ladles to patronize the matiness at this house, because they can secure better seats.

only attribute this to the concelentions endeavor on the part of the Messrs. Kernan the public.

RAILWAY NOTES.

The Housatonic Valley railroad will soon pass into the centrol of the New York and New England road.

Director Straut, of the Chicago and Alton railway, dropped dead of hears affection in Chicago yesterday morning.

The net earnings of the Atchison, Topeka and San Fe railroad for the nine months ending Sept. 29, 1887, show a gain of $1,127,293. The Coast Line has reduced rates to Jackson-ville, Fla., from New York to $27.75; Philadel-phia, $20.85; Baitimore, $23.95; Washington, $22.75.

The first truss of the Poughkespste bridge was finished and swung clear yesterday. It is 525 feet long between conters of towers, 82 feet deep, and 25 wide, being the largest and heaviest steel truss in the world. It rests on steel towers 85 feet high, which stand on mascory piers, whose foundations are 125 feet below high water, and which rise 35 feet above high water, and total height from foundations 35 feet. It carries a floor system on top for double track railway, and is dapable of supercring a rolling load of 5,000 pounds to the running foot on each track.

CONDEMNING JACKSON.

The Local Assemblies State Their

Grounds of Complaint, It would seem that the feeling of indignation entertained by the union men at the effort of certain officeholders to place them in a false position in regard to E. E. Jackson, the Democratic candidate for governor of the state of Maryland, is becoming very unanimous among the laboring men. That the same feeling prevails in all the local as semblies is shown from the resolutions adopted at meetings held last night. adopted at meetings held last night.

DULLNESS ON CHANGE.

Money Brokers Leave the City Until After Election. New York, Nov. 7.—The fact that to-morrow is a holiday induced a number of brokers to leave the city until Wednesday, and the volume of business to-day was smaller than usual of late. Fluctuations also were, as a general thing, of a small smaller than usual of late. Pluctuations also were, as a general thing, of a small significance, and little feature of interest was developed during the session. The depression of Saturday still had some effect in the early trading, but the demand for stocks fully equaled the supply, and an improvement which was somewhat of a surprise to the bears took place. The speculation was confined to a few stocks only, and infthe Vanderbilt's alone was there anything of importance.

Free realizations in the last hour wiped out most of the gains, and the day's transactions were of little significance except in the one group of stocks mentioned. The opening was fairly active, but heavy to weak at declines from Saturday's final figures of from ½ to ½. The list was strong, however, and the losses of the opening were soon made up. A few stocks were quite weak. The market later became very dull, but the Vanderbilt's came into prominence, and the general list followed. The dullness continued unrelieved, but in the last hour prices reacted, and in many cases the gains of the day were neutralized.

Money on call has been easy, ranging from 3½ to 4½, last loan at 4½, and closing offered at 4½. Sterling exchange is quiet and steady. Actual business at 481½ to 480 for 60-day bills and 480½ to 480½, Government bonds dull and steady. State bonds neglected. Railroad bonds dull, but generally firm.

BALTIMORE, MD., Oct. 6.—Virginia 6s, con olidated, 47; 10-40s, 3554 bid to-day. The Republican Club

The National Republican Club of the District of Columbia held its usual weekly meeting last evening in Grand Army building. The secretary reported the issuing of between 800 and 1,000 orders for railroad between 800 and 1,000 orders for railroad tickets to voters in Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, Pennsylvau a, New Jorsey, New York, and Ohio. Hon. J. C. New was made vice president to represent the state of Indiana, the former incumbent having removed to another state. A rangements were made to have prominent speakers at each future meeting of the club to address it. The executive officers of the club have been permanent y located at 1400 Pennsylvania avenue northwest, where all the members who remain in the city will be found this evening.

for Clerical Force. The secretary of the interstate commerce ommission says the published statement that the interstate commerce commission has exhausted its appropriation and is now running in expectation of a deficiency bill is incorrect. It is true that the entire exis lacorrect. It is true that the entire expenses of the commission, including salary of commissioners, secretary, and clerks, the fitting up of the commission's quarters, the purchase of furniture, and the cost of printing and stenographic work, come out of the appropriation of $100,000 for fifteen months beginning April 1, 1887, but the appropriation has been carefully husbanded, and the accounts in the secretary's office show that if the present scale is not exceeded there will be a small balance at the end of the present fiscal year.

It is a fact, however, that the work of the commissioners in the matter of handling the schedules, contracts, and other papers required to be filled, and with respect to the statistical work generally, which is contemplated by the interstate commerce act, is very seriously hampered by the lack of affequate clerical force.

ON THE COURT RECORD.

The Bar Proceedings in Relation to the Late Justice Woods. Attorney General Garland yesterday in be Supreme Court of the United States presented the resolutions recently adopted by the bar in relation to the death of Justice Woods, and paid a tribute to the life and character of the deceased. When the and character of the deceased. When the clerk had read the resolutions the chief justice stated that the members of the court were grateful to the bar for this tribute to the memory of their late associate, and that what had been said was no more than just, and met their hearty approval. After referring to Mr. Justice Woods's career on the bench in feeling terms, he directed that the resolutions of the bar and the rewarks of the Attories. the bar and the remarks of the Attorney General in presenting them be entered on the record of the court.

Anchor Lodge of Good Templars St. George's Hall was crowded to its ut most capacity last evening on the occasion of the first public reception of Ancho of the first public reception of Anchor Lodge of Good Templars. The officers-elect having been duly installed by Lodge Deputy Sister Spargeon, the following programme was rendered: Fiano solo, Sister Brookfield; address, Col. W. F. Switzler; recitations, Mrs. F. E. Woodward and Miss M. Angerer; vocal solo, Brother Patterson; reading, Mrs. Gilbert, and recitation, Miss Sauter. Then followed an amateur band of minstrels composed of the employes of the Boston Dry Goods House, who gave a remarkable exhibition of their skill in vocal and instrumental music. Brother Conner then smused the audience with his powers of ventriloquism, and last, but not least, refreshments were served to the large crowd in attendance. Every one went away satisfied and highly pleased with the entertainment of Anchor Lodge. To M. P. Caldwell, the efficient chairman of the committee, is due the success of the entertainment.

The Army Nurses' Association will hold their regular monthly meeting to-night at the residence of Mrs. Ferguson, on I street northwest. It is urged that all the mem-ters possible attend, as there are matters needing their consideration.

Saved from the Grave.

When a man has been snatched, as it were, from the very jaws of death, and given a new lease of healthy life by means of a simple remedy, it is natural for him to be enthusiastic in his praise of the means which delivered him from deadity perfit. Mr. B. H. Byrd, who is the postmaster at Lady Lake, Sumter county, Fla., as well as a leading merchant of that place, under date of May 4, 1857, writes:

GENTLEMEN. Allow me to congratulate and return thanks for the wonderful success your 3, 8, 8, has proved in my case. You remember about a year ago I wrote you in reference to my case. I was treated by three skilling physicians, but with no relief. I suffered a great deal of measiness, besides a great deal of plain. I must say that the contents of one dozen bottles of 8, 8, 8, has almost removed a cancer from my face, which no doubt would have soon hurred me to my grave.

I shall always keep a good supply in my store, and wree the sale of the same, I do think it it wonderful and has no equal. I am, yours truly,
